

FIRST OVERNIGHT AIR MAIL SUCCESS BRITAIN OPPOSES CONFERENCE ON CHINA

BRITISH SURPRISED AT KELLOGG'S MOVE TO DISCUSS TROUBLE

China Must Put House In Order Before Such Conference

London, July 2.—Great Britain today threw cold water on Secretary of State Kellogg's proposal for a new conference of the powers to iron out Chinese troubles that have resulted in the present widespread disorders in that country.

"China must put her house in order before there can be any conference to discuss matters of extra territoriality," said a statement from the foreign office.

British officials were manifestly surprised at Kellogg's move for no communication had been received from Washington they asserted.

In the absence of such official communication, foreign office officials said they believed the United States would continue to co-operate with the other powers interested in China and deal with the issue of extra territoriality only after China herself had cleared up the present situation and shown herself able to protect foreign lives and property.

London, July 2.—The American move toward a new international conference to thresh out and adjust the multitude of perplexing problems incident to the Chinese disturbances received a cool reception in Great Britain today.

While the British government may not go so far as to formally oppose Secretary of State Kellogg's proposed conference it was made plain in official quarters today that British statesmen are not enamored of the idea and probably will seek a delay until the present situation in China is straightened out.

Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain has already stated that Britain sees no reason for considering the question of the extra territorial rights now held by foreign powers in China.

In fact, the British charge d'affaires at Peking, has been instructed to tell the Chinese authorities flatly that Great Britain is opposed to consideration of this question so long as China shows herself unable to suppress the foreign disorders at Shanghai, Hong Kong and other places.

The British policy is based primarily upon British trade and the need for its protection in China.

The Daily Express spoke frankly on this angle today and showed clearly what is in the back of British minds.

"Twenty-five per cent of the inhabitants of the world live in China," said the Express. "Its more than 400,000,000 people make the country a vast potential market for British manufacturers and their rivals."

Continuing the editorial pointed out that China already has signed trade agreements with Japan and with Soviet Russia. This incident was mentioned and showing the need for the careful nursing of British trade prospects in the far east.

"Deep rivalries may be stirred up by President Coolidge's peace move," concluded the Express.

EDUCATORS SUGGEST CABINET MEMBER TO HANDLE EDUCATION

Indianapolis, July 2.—A new Education Bill creating a Department of Education with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet was proposed in the report of the Legislative Commission of the National Education Association, presented to the Association's Representative Assembly this morning by Dr. George D. Strayer, chairman of the commission.

Said Dr. Strayer: "That we were not able to secure a report on the Education Bill from either the committee of the House or the Senate during the last session of Congress throws considerable light upon the present legislative situation. In view of this situation the commission voted to propose a Bill creating a Department of Education, but omitting appropriations other than those necessary for carrying on the work of the department."

FLOODS SPREADING DISASTER IN POLAND

London, July 1.—Floods are spreading devastation in southeastern Poland, according to Warsaw advices today. More than 150,000 have been made homeless. Thousands of homes were carried away, crops destroyed or seriously damaged and railroad bridges and factories hit by the havoc.

Relief funds have been organized.

First Quake Photos by Wire and Plane

The earthquake that struck lower California did its greatest damage in Santa Barbara, where the largest toll of life was taken in the collapse of the fashionable Arlington Hotel, the ruins of which are shown. This photo was rushed by racing car, airplane and then "telephoned" across the continent by A. T. and T. new wire process.

COOLIDGE HORIZON MANAGED BY STRIKE AND KU KLUX ISSUE

Mrs. Action Offers
Treat—Tumult in Wake
Of Klan Intention

Spampcott, Mass., July 2.—Two problems hover over the hitherto serene horizon of President Coolidge's vacation today with a distinct threat that the next thirty days may bring developments of a more or less embarrassing nature to the administration.

The first has to do with the possibility of a general strike in the coal fields; the second bears upon the old question of religious liberty, aggravated by revival and growth of the Ku Klux Klan.

Of greater concern to the president, although not so imminent as the strike, is the attending renewal of the bitter fight between coal operators and miners.

The charge of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America that industrial leaders including John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Secretary of Treasury Mellon are conspiring to violate the Jacksonville agreement and his intimation that a general strike might be called to force its observance is causing Mr. Coolidge some concern.

A tieup in the coal mines would confront the president with the first industrial crisis of his administration. The Klan problem is more imminent. Although no invitation has actually reached the summer white house here, it has been announced that Mr. Coolidge would be asked to address the Klan convention in Washington early in August and also receive their parade.

It has been stated through the press by officials of that organization that the executive could not well refuse them because he spoke before the Holy Name Society last year.

While it has already been indicated here that should the invitation be received, it would be declined on the ground that Mr. Coolidge would not be in Washington at that time.

Opponents of the Klan—Catholics, Jew and negro, are literally flooding White Court with demands that the president not only publicly refuse to accept, but that he take steps to prevent the Klan from assembling and parading in the national capital.

Scores of letters and petitions have been received on this subject. Thus far, however, President Coolidge has taken no direct action which would indicate he was unduly concerned with either problem. But he is studying the situation closely.

LETTERS FROM SUPPORTERS DRIVE SCOPES INTO SECLUSION; BRYAN IS ASSAILED

Dayton, Tenn., July 2.—A host of Americans by using Uncle Sam's mails are rallying to the defense of John T. Scopes, who goes on trial next week for alleged violation of Tennessee's anti-evolution law, it was disclosed here today, by his counsel.

From all sections of the nation an army of scientists, educators, college professors and even ministers, as well as laymen, are writing letters of encouragement to the defense.

Evolutionists seldom fail to denounce William Jennings Bryan in their letters to Scopes, while fundamentalists just as often condemn Clarence Darrow in writing to the prosecutors.

To read some of the letters it seems the distant writers believe the trial here will be a physical battle between Darrow and Bryan.

"Beat Darrow, God is with you," cry the fundamentalists.

"Make a monkey out of Bryan," shout the evolutionists.

Among the letters received by

Scopes and his counsel is one written to Judge John L. Godsey, chief of defense counsel, by a Spokane Washington educator, who said:

"I do not see how anyone can teach geology, botany, zoology or astronomy without violating the Tennessee law. Call on me if I can help you to wipe this vicious law off the statute books."

Another wrote:

"The entrance of Bryan into the case means that the most powerful influences of reaction are to be arrayed against you. How can I help you beat them?"

A Chicagoan wrote:

"Bryan resorts to the usual tactics of fraud. It is the last stand of the fundamentalists against evolution."

A Georgia editor wrote George W. Rappleyea, who initiated the test case:

"I trust Tennessee, through the courts, will throw off the yoke placed on its neck by the legislature and be free to grasp the truth wherever it is found. One of the greatest proofs of evolution is the slowness with which people, supposedly intelligent, grasp new ideas. It is an evolutionary process in itself."

A Midland, Arkansas minister, 84 years old, wrote:

"I am an enemy of ignorance. Your case is attracting world wide attention. I hope you win."

Educators, editors and ministers have offered their services as witnesses. Those accepted already include Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn of Columbia University; Dr. Edwin Conklin of Princeton; Prof. Michael Pupin of Columbia; Prof. Kinkley F. Mather of Harvard; Prof. L. F. Rettig of Yale; Prof. Maynard M. Metcalf, of Oberlin College; Dr. Edward L. Rice of Ohio Wesleyan and Prof. Henry Lane of Kentucky University.

So great was the task of reading his mail it finally forced Scopes to take a vacation. The young teacher is reported "resting" in a mountain retreat in Kentucky. He will return here late this week.

Dayton meanwhile takes things calmly. She has her hour in the sun so bright it will dazzle all the rest of the world.

THEIR HARSH NAMES!

London, July 2.—The epithet "cad" was flung at Minister of Health Chamberlain by Neal McLean, laborite member of the House of commons in a bitter scene at the close of another all night session early today.

McLean later withdrew his remarks.

NATIONS DEBATING PROPOSAL AS FUTURE OF CHINA IN BALANCE

Expect Acceptance or Rejection From Powers In Few Days

Washington, July 2.—China's immediate future hung in the balance today as the great powers of the world debated the Washington suggestion that a conference be held at once to solve the involved extra territorial rights problem.

Informal advices, either accepting or rejecting the American proposal, were expected to arrive at the state department within the next few days. The tenor of the communications will decide the next step in the negotiations.

The arrival in Peking of American Minister John Van A. MacMurray, was expected here today to be the signal for the formal launching of the conference which was provided for in resolutions adopted by the powers here in 1921.

Approval by Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan of the proposal, would be sufficient indication, it was felt in official circles here for the Peking government to again formally ask the powers to accept her previously tendered resignation.

Administration officials here regard extra territoriality as one of the great drawbacks to permanent Chinese stability.

During past decades, foreign powers obtaining concessions in China, have been permitted to administer and enforce their own laws. Chinese officials and police have had power to arrest foreigners but at that point their authority ended, individuals appearing before magistrates of their own nationality.

It was this condition which recently inspired the anti-foreign riots and American officials are inclined to regard the present time as particularly appropriate for a general withdrawal of all of the world powers from their extra territorial rights positions.

The great hindrance to a general agreement by world powers to abandonment of these rights has been the uncodified condition of China's law. Chinese magistrates impose sentences based largely on tradition and it was to correct this condition that new penal and other codes were recently adopted.

A commission is now engaged in codifying all Chinese law.

BEATING SWORDS OF WAR INTO WEAPONS TO COMBAT PEACE ILLS

Chlorine Used At Camp Perry To Treat Colds Of National Guardsmen

Columbus, July 2.—The swords of modern war are being beaten into weapons to combat peacetime ills in successful experiments conducted by medical officers of the Ohio National Guard at Camp Perry, training camp of the state military forces, according to announcement here today by Adjutant General Frank B. Henderson.

Chlorine, the deadly green gas made from common salt and counted on by the Germans in 1915 to shatter allied lines in France is now being successfully used for the treatment of colds, whooping cough, acute bronchitis, hay fever and other respiratory diseases, and the treatment will be employed on men suffering with these ailments during the summer training period at Camp Perry which opens next Monday it was announced.

The treatment will be in charge of Col. D. V. Burkett, chief surgeon of The Ohio National Guard and United States to take the course in chlorination for respiratory diseases for general use among troops. He has studied in the chemical warfare service laboratories in Washington, D. C., under Brigadier General Amos Fries, chief of the division.

One of the first to undergo treatment in the chlorination room at Camp Perry was Governor Donahey it was announced.

Colonel Burkett declared the dangers of chlorine had been exaggerated pointing out that there were only seven deaths in the 1,842 casualties in the American army resulting from its use.

MARINES PRESERVE QUIET IN QUAKE CITY

Santa Barbara, California, July 2.—With more than 300 United States marines on guard, quiet prevailed in Santa Barbara today.

A trembler, the first in the past 24 hours was felt shortly before ten o'clock last night. No damage was done.

An extremely light and separate shock followed the earlier one.

FORMER HOME MATRON ELECTED PRESIDENT OF EX-PUPILS' BODY

Mrs. Garver Chosen—432 Are Attending Sessions—Dinner Features Session Wednesday

Mrs. Anna Noble Garver, retiring chief matron of the O. S. and S. O. Home, was elected president of the Ex-pupils' Association of the institution at the annual business meeting, the chief feature of the second day of the reunion, Wednesday.

Other officers elected were Harry Burkett, Fremont, first vice president; William T. Kemp, Wayneville, second vice president; Grace Shroades Snyder, Columbus, secretary; Alice McNabb Green, Dayton, corresponding secretary and Oliver Devore, Leipsic, treasurer.

The executive committee elected Wednesday is composed of William

FIRST PUPILS HERE

Six of the first pupils of the O. S. and S. O. Home, which is located in a second story room on East Main Street, Xenia, in 1869, are attending the sessions of the Ex-pupils' Association.

Ed. Hughes, Columbus, parliamentarian of the state legislature and active ex-pupil, made a special effort this year to get the ten surviving members of the Home pupils of that year to the reunion this summer. Six of them responded and one of them, William T. Kemp, Wayneville, was elected vice-president of the association.

The others are: Albert W. Hudson, 41 South Williams Street, Dayton; John Van Gorder, 620 South Fountain Avenue, Springfield; Mrs. Ella Gloyd Cook and Mrs. Della McCracken Lichtenberg, who make their home together at Zion City, Ill., and Mrs. Elizabeth Stivers Grable, of Fremont.

Thrasher, Cincinnati; Dr. George Lampe, Cincinnati; Mrs. Mable Ryan Kilpatrick, Columbus and Mae Houck, Miami.

Mrs. Nettie Greenfield of Cincinnati, a member of the Women's Relief Corps; Mrs. Richter, former commander of the W. R. C., also of Cincinnati and Mrs. Daisy Wragg, of Toledo, a member of the U. S. A. W. V., were elected honorary members of the association.

Wednesday's program was concluded with the annual dinner of the association held in the dining room. Four hundred and thirty-two guests registered Wednesday.

After-dinner addresses were made by Dr. Lampe, of Cincinnati; C. E. Eckert, postmaster of Greenfield, O., and Professor William L. Campbell of Philadelphia, Pa.

Vocal selections were given by Miss Alma Ashcraft of Cincinnati; and Harry Wageman, of Cleveland. Special music was provided by the Home orchestra. Invocation was pronounced by the Rev. A. D. Wernick, Montgomery County.

The reunion will close Thursday evening with an open air dance on the pavilion on the Home campus. A concert will be given by the band.

TRAFFIC OF PANAMA CANAL DECREASES

Balboa, Canal Zone July 2.—Panama Canal traffic showed a drop of ten percent in the fiscal year just closed, compared with the preceding 12 months, according to figures available today.

The year 1925 still was twenty percent above 1923. The decrease was attributed mainly to a smaller California oil trade.

The figures for the year showed that 473 commercial vessels paid $21,400,000 in tolls. They carried 24,000,000 tons of cargo.

SHIPS FROM CHICAGO AND NEW YORK LAND IN SAFE INAUGURAL

Thousands Cheer New Service—Ohioans Banquet at Cleveland

New York, July 2.—Overnight New York-Chicago air mail service is a success.

The first plane in the new night mail service from Chicago arrived at Hadley field, N. J., at two o'clock this morning, well ahead of schedule.

It carried flowers for Colonel John Coolidge from Vice President Charles G. Dawes and 130 pounds of mail in 13 pouches.

The second plane landed at Hadley Field at 4:35 a.m., eastern standard time.

Two westbound planes took off from Hadley Field last night with heavy loads of mail for Chicago.

The first plane to arrive this morning at Hadley Field from Chicago arrived one hour and fifteen minutes ahead of schedule. It was piloted by P. J. Lyons. The second plane, piloted by James Ames, was twenty-five minutes ahead of time.

Postmaster General Harry S. New and other postal and government officials and a crowd of 15,000 persons witnessed the arrival of the planes which marked the inauguration of night air mail service between America's two largest cities—making it possible for letters mailed in New York in the evening to be delivered in Chicago the next morning.

Arrival of the planes from the west greeted with the honking of automobile horns and cheers from the great crowd assembled in and near the flying field.

Postmaster General New was enthusiastic over the success of the new service.

This marks an epoch of two things," he said. "First the science and progress of aviation and speed in transportation. It is a fact, too, to the days of the pony express. Both of these methods of transporting mail have existed within my own lifetime."

Cleveland, O., July 2.—While more than 100,000 citizens of Cleveland and Northern Ohio looked on, the Cleveland airport was officially opened here last night, following a banquet at Public Hall, addressed by civic and aviation leaders.

Never before in Ohio was there such an assemblage gathered to watch the stunt flying and the inauguration of night air mail.

As the sun sank in the west, a trail of light beamed out to light the way across the continent for night air mail flyers who left Chicago and New York with mail that was delivered in Cleveland, New York and Chicago early this morning.

At the same time in Public hall, the largest banquet ever held in Ohio was going on and 2,000 guests heard Cleveland extolled for its leadership in aviation and pictured as the future aeronautical capital of the United States.

Cleveland airport will be one of the greatest in the nation and will be an asset to your city," asserted Major General Mason Patrick, chief of the army air service.

William B. Mayo, engineer of the Ford Motor Company, declared that Henry Ford would have fifty commercial airplanes carrying passengers and freight within any year.

In a few years every municipality will have an air fleet," declared Mayo. "We have operated our line to Chicago successfully and tonight we are starting our line to Cleveland. In ten days we will be making two trips," the engineer declared.

A Ford roadster was brought here last night by the Maiden Dearborn III, assembled in forty-five minutes and driven from a platform by Mayo with Manager William Hopkins sitting beside him.

Shortly after arrival of the automobile from Detroit a Martin commercial plane arrived from New York with a load of gowns for a local department store. It had made a non-stop flight from New York.

Chicago, July 2.—Chicago's first night air mail from New York, packed in the cockpit of a giant De Havilland piloted by Warren D. Williams, zipped down out of the sky to a perfect landing at the Maywood Field at 6:18 o'clock, central standard time today.

The thirty-two sacks of mail were immediately loaded on trucks and started for the loop for the first daily delivery.

BRITAIN WANTS TO COLLECT DEBTS

London, July 2.—Great Britain has no intention of intervening in any debt settlement that her various debtors may make with the United States but she does believe that the time has come for these debtors to talk of settlement with her.

This was the gist of a note circulating on the continent today among Britain's debtors.

While disclaiming any intention of "pressing" for any immediate payment, the missive stated the British government considers the time appropriate for her debtors to say when they will be prepared to open settlement negotiations.

RESERVES SOURED A TWO GAMES ON HOLIDAY WEEK END

The Reserves will play two games this week end. Saturday they meet the St. Agnes team of Dayton, runners up in the Catholic League and Sunday the locals take on the Yellow Cabs. Both games will start at 2:30 o'clock with Rachford in charge.

In taking on St. Agnes they are meeting a classy nine. The Catholic tribe has won five and lost two in the Sunday League, and there are some mighty good ball clubs in the loop. They have Whelan playing second base, a former central Leaguer who also played with the Dayton Triangles. Metz, first baseman, is another star and hard hitter while Hess, outfielder, is their cleanup man. They have three reliable pitchers in Fulweller, Zimmerman and Reilly. The first named played with the Dayton All Stars and pitched here against the Bayliffs.

The Reserves will not have as easy time with the St. Agnes nine as they did with the Wolverines last week. They will have to play heads up ball at all times in order to cope with the Dayton nine. Hammerman or Shoup will pitch for the locals while Friend will be behind the bat. Cyphers will play at third and will not do any hurling unless the other two happen to be ineffective.

TILTONS WILL PLAY PENNSY ON FRIDAY

With third position at stake, a regularly scheduled game in the Industrial League will be played Friday evening at Washington Park between the Tiltons' "32" team and the Pennsylvania Railroad nine.

The Railroaders now have undisputed possession of third place in the league race but a defeat from the tallenders Friday would push the former team down into last place.

The Tiltons have strengthened their lineup in preparation for remaining games during the season and are given an even chance to cop the Friday battle.

MOTHER OF MRS. J. W. GIBNEY DIES HERE

Mrs. Catherine McKinney Vandervoort, of New Concord, O., died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walker Gibney, North Galloway Street, Thursday morning at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Vandervoort had been visiting her daughter for the past six weeks. She is survived by her husband, Joseph, one daughter, Mrs. Gibney, two brothers and two sisters.

The body will be taken to New Concord Friday where funeral services will be held and burial made.

CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Cora Stockton, 53, died at her home at 204 Homestead Avenue, Dayton, Wednesday from heart trouble after a short illness. She is survived by one son, one sister and one grandchild. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at her home after which the body will be brought to Xenia for burial.

Automobile Insurance A Necessity

Cyril was a careful driver. He admitted it. Boasted of it, in fact.

"I've driven eight years without an accident," said he, "look at all the money I've saved by not insuring."

Cyril should have taken his profits.

In trying to avoid a collision with a LESS CAREFUL DRIVER, he crashed into another machine parked by the curb.

The other fellow FOGOT TO STOP—the newspapers referred to Cyril as the "defendant"!

He's got to drive about ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS WITHOUT AN ACCIDENT to save enough in insurance premiums to pay the damage judgment resulting from that one mishap.

INMATE DIES

Roscoe Lancaster, 28, who was committed to the Columbus Feeble Minded Institution from Greene County in 1901, died at that institution Wednesday morning, according to word received by Probate Judge S. C. Wright Wednesday.

Lancaster's home was in Bowersville when he was committed to the institution. He is survived by his mother who lives in Xenia, according to the information received by Judge Wright.

Where Seven Died in Earthquake Collapse

Some idea is given of the violence of the earthquake in lower California, where a score were known dead as this picture was taken, and in which scores were injured and property damaged to the extent of $10,000,000, in this photograph of the ruins of Santa Barbara's largest structure, the San Marco Building. This picture, with others, was rushed across the continent by means of racing car, airplane and the new telephone transmission process.

JOHNSON TO APPEAL POLICE COURT CASE HE HAS ANNOUNCED

Judge R. L. Gowdy's decision in the case of Jennie Hickman against the city of Xenia that Xenia's municipal court can not be attacked collaterally to recover old fines will be carried in error to the Court of Appeals, and if necessary to the State Supreme Court, it is announced by Attorney Frank L. Johnson, who brought a number of suits against the city.

Judge Gowdy ruled in the test case of Jennie Hickman, that Xenia's Police Court had standing as a de facto body and therefore could not be attacked in collateral proceedings.

Attorney Johnson holds the opinion that since the court was never established all of the acts of Judge E. Dawson Smith, incumbent, were null and void and illegal.

Although Attorney Johnson filed a number of similar suits against the city, the case of Jennie Hickman will be carried upon error as a test case, he announced.

LESLIE RETURNED TO WEST VIRGINIA

Governor Vic Donahey Thursday granted the requisition of Governor Gore, West Virginia, authorizing the return of Walter Leslie, 31, colored, of Wilberforce, being held in the Greene County Jail, for Huntington, W. Va., authorities on a grand larceny charge.

Leslie, a former butler at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Combs, 1327 Third Avenue, Huntington, is accused of stealing a $500 diamond lavalliere and woman's clothing valued at $400. According to Police Chief M. E. Graham, a Huntington detective arrived in Xenia early Thursday afternoon to take Leslie back to Huntington to face the grand larceny charge.

USE AUTO ENGINE

Martins Ferry, July 2—A motor truck engine used to operate a rotary pump on a test well for the new water works system averted a shutdown of the Wheeling Steel corporation's big corrugating plant here and a layoff of 1,600 workers, when a break developed in the water-workers line leading to the Ohio River intake. It was revealed here today, city officials shut off the water supply to three big plants. A line of hose was run from the new test well to the corrugating plant and sufficient water obtained to continue operation.

What I sell a Well Heated Home, when I sell a mac, I sell a power tub I sell Well Washed Clothes, sell I paint I sell Protection for Wood—in other well RESULTS!

Have you thought of it just this way? It's not that you don't buy a washing machine as a decoration, you can't make a playmate of a furnace. Each has a specific JOB to perform and the PROPER PERFORMANCE of that particular JOB is what I believe you're most interested in.

And the PROPER PERFORMANCE is what I sell!

Naturally this leads to occasional controversies as many times folks come in here with a PRICE LIMIT fixed firmly in their mind and rather than sell them an article which won't DO THE JOB, I let some other store sell them. Many times folks come in with a price limit and I find that it's WAY TOO HIGH, and when they find it's not necessary to spend as much as they figured, it's real pleasant to me to be able to tell them so.

My lone selfish reason for doing this—thinking this way is that I want you to have ALWAYS a pleasant thought thorough satisfaction and a kindly word for your transactions with this store.

We haven't a F. Chicken at all but we HAVE got a dandy line of White Mountain and Arctic Freezers and at the risk of peevish local ice cream dealers we MUST insist that HOME MADE ice cream has the other sort whipped to a frazzle!

Satisfaction

This comes from many sources. Some folks get it from a glance in the mirror, others from the glances of the fair sex. Still others from excellent digestions and others from their shapes.

Verne and me get "satisfaction" from all the above points and in addition we get a terrible lot of it from our habit of representing the line of automobiles we do.

It's pleasant to sell a car, wish the buyer good luck and KNOW ABSOLUTELY that every mile being ticked off on the customer's car is singing your praises

We've had some real hard tuff arguments at times to sell a Studebaker and an Overland and a Knight but there's NEVER an argument when we try to sell a man the Second one!

And boyby how this new "no last year's model" policy is helping out! Greene County folks sure have responded to THAT big idea!

And the wonderful driving weather we're having — great, eh? Yes, we are SATISFIED!

Harry.

at the top? That boy sure has crust what I mean!

I suppose if some bird came in here wanting a cuspidor, Mac would try to sell him one of the kind which would follow the owner around waiting for said owner to get through with his cigar buttes so it could catch it in its teeth. Or maybe Mac hasn't got a cuspidor with teeth and would send him home without trying to sell him none!

Yeshewould!

I hate to get ruff with Mac this way but honestgoodness he's just like a nail—can't get no results outta either unless you hit 'em on the head!

THE STATE GOVERNMENTS.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE in a recent address marks that the people are looking today to the national government to accomplish results that the federal authority was never expected to provide.

There are sharp differences of opinion as to how far the federal government should be called in to make up for the lacks of the various state administrations. But anyway, the state governments could be spurred on to meet more of the modern problems, much time and effort would be saved to our people, and the regulation would be more in accordance with the needs of the various sections.

It is a difficult thing for a group of men assembled in Washington to legislate for the needs of 48 states. Each member of Congress supposed to know the needs of his own section fairly well, but when he attempts to handle matters for sections far distant from his own, he often bungles such matters quite badly. The big nation wide problems must still be handled by the federal government, but the more states can rise to modern demands and handle their problems in a modern way, the better our government will run.

As the president has well pointed out, when the state government neglect their proper duties, there is a tendency to run to Washington to get action that the states have omitted to take. The remedy for such conditions is to send our best men to our state legislatures and to fill our positions to state administration, so that they shall look at the problems of Ohio in a big and intelligent way.

It is a high responsibility to take a position in our state government. Our best people should be willing to give this service, so that we can solve our own problems without looking so much to the federal government for help.

THE MOTHERS OF BOYS.

IN Chicago he was known commonly to the underworld as a beer runner and a gunman. Police had his record and he was considered a "bad one." He died in a hospital just the other day, twenty-four hours after he had received two bullets in his spine and eight holes in his intestines following a shooting in a roadhouse. In the same shooting his pal died.

But Walter O'Donnell, to his aged mother with a touch of grey in her hair, was still the same boy to whom she used to recite nursery rhymes and sing to sleep. But it was a different home-coming than she had ever dreamed or hoped for when they brought the body of "her boy" to her home.

Mother love is a wonderful thing, though. She defended him to the last against the declarations of the police.

"Always in his twenty-three years, his first thoughts seemed to be of me. He never came home at night without bring me some little gift. A boy who thinks of his mother is not a wanton killer as police and public paint my boy. He was kind and loving to everyone he met. My boy wouldn't harm a fly."

But he did "harm a fly," police say. And he did have a bad record. That is undeniable. Sometimes a mother's love is so great that it is also blind, blind to the crimes which may preclude his entire soul. A child may commit a misdemeanor in the home and the mother will punish him. But let that child do something twice as bad in the neighbor's lot and if the neighbor sees fit to reprimand the boy, the mother will protect him. That is parental love and home pride. Probably it is just as true in this case. Down in her heart this mother must know that her boy was not just what he should have been. She couldn't help knowing that. But at the same time she doesn't want his record painted black in the eye of the public. She doesn't want someone else to say that he is "bad." That is the mother of it.

Many mothers make the mistake of being overly-indulgent to their children. They have the added misfortune of failing to correct them properly, often times upholding their petty sins before them in order to sustain the family name. The child thinks he has committed no crime; he believes that he is right. And this gross misconception of life grows on him, until someday he may become a violent law breaker. No mother means that this shall occur. But it does, regrettably, and the mistake usually takes place when the child is in his teens or younger.

Don't tell the boy or girl they are too perfect—at least, not to their faces. It doesn't produce dividends later on in life.

SLEEP

Where is the greatness of the king
At midnight when he's slumbering?
His royal robes of pomp and pride
Are for the night hours laid aside
And till the day shall dawn again
He is no more than other men.

Not far away a poor man lies,
The self-same sleep has sealed his eyes.

His body, too, has put away
The shabby symbols of the day,
And as he lies there slumbering
He is the equal of the king.

Sleep knows neither pomp nor place
Nor all the signs of earthly grace,
Foolish or wise, or great or low,
The self-same calm at midnight know,
And where no mortal eye can see
We are what God knows us to be.

Sleep is a brief death which brings Relief from all earth's bickerings
And all the small distinctions which Mark rich and low and poor and
A hint of what shall be that day
The spirit doffs its robe of clay.

Miss C. K.: "I would appreciate a recipe for pie crust and also a Butter-scotch Pie filling."

Answer: Add one-half teaspoon of salt to one cup of pastry flour then, with the fingers, rub in three tablespoons of lard. Moisten with six tablespoons of cold water, turn out onto a floured board, dust with a little more flour and roll out gently to about one-half inch in thickness. Dot this sheet with two extra tablespoons of lard broken in small bits, and fold one half of the sheet over the other, pinching edges together to enclose the air. Again roll out, fold over again, and cut the mass into equal halves. One half makes one crust—either in upper or lower. (This recipe may be used to make the pastry part of the Berry Cream Pie which my menu for today called for yesterday.) It will make two Butterscotch Pies as only a lower crust will be needed. When you roll these two pastry halves out, separately try to make them as nearly circular in shape as possible to fit the pie pan. Stick with a fork and bake, empty, (for a Butterscotch Pie) for 15 minutes in a hot oven. They fill with the following:

Butterscotch Filling: Put two table spoons of granulated sugar into a hot frying pan over medium heat and let it melt ("caramelize" it). When it is all melted, add one and one-half cups of boiling water; this will make it sizzle and jump, but keep stirring it till the lumps melt. Then add one and one-half cups of medium-brown sugar. Thicken this mixture with three tablespoons of cornstarch powder which you have previously mixed to a paste with a little cold water. Add a pinch of salt, two tablespoons of butter, and pour the mixture onto three well-beaten egg-yolks. Now turn it into the baked lower crust in the pie pan, spread over it the stiffly-whipped whites of two eggs sweetened with two tablespoons of granulated sugar, and slip the pie into a slow oven for ten minutes, during which time the meringue will brown, serve cold. (Note: To make ordinary bread flour like pastry flour, add two level tablespoons of dry cornstarch powder to each cup of the flour.)

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

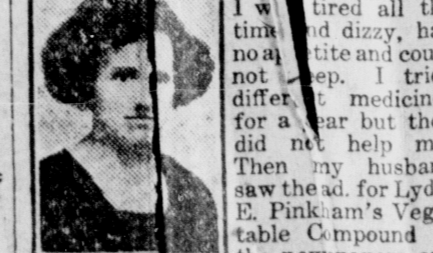

ALL OUT OF SORTS?

So Was This Xenia Woman Who Tells Her Experience.

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Xenia case is one of many:

Mrs. Ella McKinley, 107 Bellbrook Ave., says: "Sharp pains shot through my back when I stooped. There was always a constant, dull ache in my back. Mornings my back and shoulders were stiff. I became nervous and dizzy and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Pills relieved me. Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. McKinley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

Mrs. L. Suffered From All These Troubles, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well

Terre Haute, Indiana. "I was weak and run-down and in such a nervous condition that I could hardly do my work. I was tired all the time and dizzy, had no appetite and could not sleep. I tried different medicines for a year but they did not help me. Then my husband saw the ad. for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and he took before and after childbirth for health and strength. I would be willing to answer letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. J. Lee, Route E, Box 648, Terre Haute, Indiana. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Today's Talks

A NEW FRIEND

When you say of your friend "he wears his heart on his sleeve," you have said much. You have really expressed yourself as having taken over your friend's best, noblest qualities. As we grow older we have more need of our friends, yet we make fewer as the years accumulate. So, a new friend becomes truly a gift of great importance. Some, like striking gold after digging years in a seemingly worthless mine.

In your new friends look to us as though they were legion. Yet how many of them can we count on when the years and through thick and thin is to be a life to you as you would a golden bird.

Then a new friend comes—after many, many years! You clean out your home, you arrange a choice seat, you call in your long and familiar friends that they too may warm at the hearth of this new one. And what joy, what exaltation—how all the sweet and lovely experiences of life are renewed again against your scarred heart, so that the very shadows of our life only serve to bring out the newer sunlight.

Ten years ago I met a new friend and when Christmas time came he sent me a little note and told me that one of the things that had made him happiest at that time was that he had been "blessed with a new friend."

I talked with a man recently who was ill and tired. He had accumulated great wealth. But he was very unhappy. The companions of his early struggles had been deserted by him. Those who had believed in him and backed him, he had no time for. The game of money clutched at the throat. Soon he will die and his monument will be a fallen tree, great and powerful when it gave shade and shelter but useless and impotent in death.

More than wealth or power is a new friend.

When the essence of life is magnified it tells of but one worth, while thing—the beauty and worth of friendship. Friendship that has been tried in the fire and preserved free of all dross.

Where Perry Fought

The spirit of the "Glorious Fourth" suggests a visit to the scene of the Battle of Lake Erie, victoriously waged by Oliver Hazard Perry to make secure the independence we celebrate. Patriotic Ohio motorists will enjoy Put-in-Bay—easily reached by ferries from Sandusky—and the classic memorial to the doughty Commodore who sent forth the famous message "We have met the enemy and they are ours."

Along the breeze-swept shores of Sandusky Bay stand other monuments marking ancient forts and stirring deeds that swayed our nation's destiny. The rocks of Kelley's Island, a few miles off-shore, bear some of the world's most remarkable glacial grooves.

Spend the "Fourth" along Sandusky Bay

Nearby, also, are two of Ohio's most popular vacation spots. Cedar Point provides wonderful fresh water swimming and countless added attractions for the tourist to its mammoth hotels. Side, a famous religious encampment as the "Chautauqua of the Great Lakes."

In most of the towns along your way you will find fine Standard Oil Service Stations where helpful road information is as easily available as the reliable products of this Ohio corporation. MRS. GEORGE MOORE, MAGAZINE EDITOR, DIES ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. George Moore, editor of the Woman's Missionary Magazine of the United Presbyterian Church, and well known Xenia woman passed away at her home on East Main Street, Wednesday night.

Although Mrs. Moore had been in ill health, since an attack of influenza last winter, she was able to be about her work until the past few days.

She was a life-long resident of Xenia, her death occurring in the home where she was born, known as the Puterbaugh homestead. Her father was the late Samuel Puterbaugh, who was a figure in Xenia business circles a half-century ago, being associated in business with the late A. H. Baughman.

Mrs. Moore was a member of the Reformed Church during her girlhood and at the time of her marriage affiliated with the United Presbyterian Church with her husband.

She was editor of the Woman's Missionary Magazine, the international organ of that society, for twenty-one years. She was preceded in death a week by Miss Hazel Flagg, treasurer of the same magazine.

Besides her church and missionary society work Mrs. Moore was a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and was active in that organization since the time of the Crusade.

She is survived by her husband, One brother, Samuel Puterbaugh, and a sister, Mrs. J. F. Shaffer, preceded Mrs. Moore in death a number of years. The five Shaffer children were reared in the Moore home.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Second United Presbyterian Church, with interment in Woodland Cemetery.

A bicycle bearing no identification marks was found by Patrolman Charles Simms on East Main Street Tuesday. The owner may call at Police Headquarters to recover the vehicle, according to Police Chief M. E. Graham.

LOVE HUNGRY CHILD SETS FIRE TO STORE

Columbus, Ohio, July 2.—The story of a 13 year old orphan girl who she twice set fire to a store owned by her foster mother so that she could spend more time with her being investigated today by Columbus police.

Dorothy Brehm's parents died when she was 4. She was adopted by D. V. Brehm, who conducted goods and notions store. Eager for motherly affection, girl told the police she did not have her foster mother spend much time at the store and so with her. So she conceived the idea of settling the problem by burning down the store. When questioned by the police she broke down and wept then told them the story. The police say she will be held as a delinquent.

On the Glorious Fourth Treat The Family They'll Enjoy It

When the evening's hot and stuffy—the air listless and calm—the thing to do is to order ice cream for the family.

A plate of frozen cream, smooth and velvety, with a flavor that's just right, cools no matter how warm the time.

A quart brick is enough for six generous portions.

$1,250,000 Gain In 6 Months

The handsome increase in our deposits since January 1st, 1925, expresses the confidence of the people in the integrity of this association and the exceptional accommodations it offers.

37% New Accounts were opened in that 6 months and $8,350,000 was received over our counters in that time. Why?

Because, in 50 years this company has betrayed no trust reposed in it. Because it is carefully and conservatively managed and employs every proper safeguard to the end that it may offer complete security to its little army of depositors.

Last year we handled over $13,000,000 without the loss of a dollar.

Let us give you information. We have patrons in all surrounding counties and can do business with you by mail as well as in person.

Three Die in Kansas City Theatre

KANSAS CITY THEATRE BLAST. INTL.

International News Reel.

This picture was taken shortly before the third body was removed from the Gillis Theatre in Kansas City, which was swept by fire following an explosion in a restaurant in the building. The photograph was transmitted by telephone wires.

Coolidge at Forefathers' Graves

(COOLIDGES AT WATERTOWN. INTL.)

International News Reel.

This picturesque photo shows President and Mrs. Coolidge at the ancient cemetery at Watertown, Mass., where they examined the tombstones placed over the graves of members of the Coolidge family who died in 1690.

Speed May Enable U. S. Girl to Swim British Channel

Gertrude Ederle, one of America's outstanding swimmers of all time, has gone to England to attempt to swim the English channel, a feat achieved by no woman to date and only five men. The fact that she is a faster swimmer than any of the men is in her favor. She has proved her endurance powers. Photos show Miss Ederle. Map shows starting point and goal in her effort.

On the Job

EVERETT SANDERS

It may be vacation time for President Coolidge, but his secretary, Everett Sanders (above), is still on the job attending the needs of the nation's executive at Swampscott, Mass.

BILL HAYS. INTL.

International News Reel.

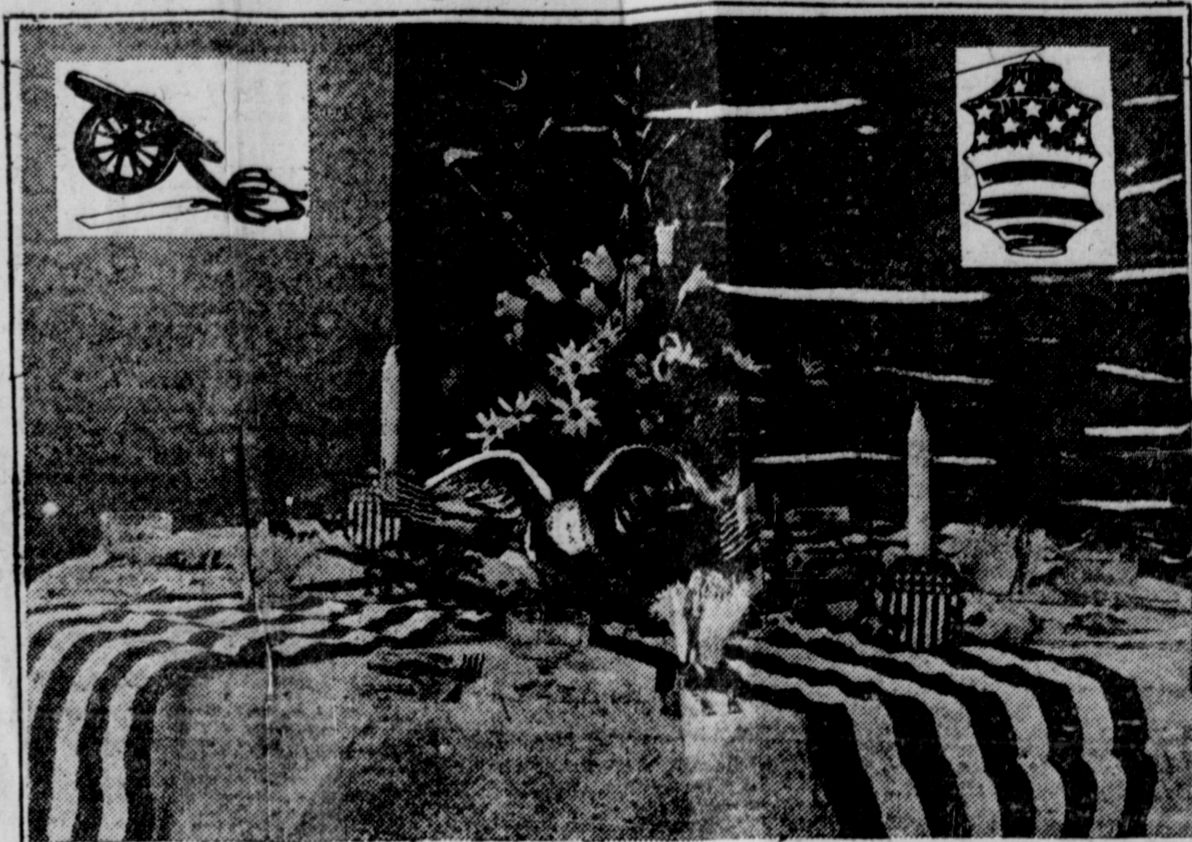

Though an office boy for Charles Herboth, of St. Louis, only four months, Bill Hays, nineteen, will receive between $15,000 and $20,000 through the wealthy man's will, which bequeathed part of the $740,000 estate to his employees. He plans to buy a home for his mother.

Speedy Trial for Dental Murderer

A speedy trial is predicted for Thomas H. Young, Los Angeles dentist, who killed his wealthy wife with a dental anesthetic. The body was found embedded in concrete in a well by police after a four month search for the missing woman. In his confession Young revealed that his step-son unknowingly helped conceal his mother's body.

Flowers and Flags Trim Table on Glorious Fourth

Flowers and flags are very appropriately used to decorate the table set for a buffet lunch for the Fourth of July entertainment. The centerpiece may be either paper flowers made from gayly colored paper according to the directions in the little booklets sold where you buy the paper or which seems to me much more charming at this time of the year—real poppies, daisies and bluebells may be used. Strips of patriotic crepe paper are laid in runners over the cloth, tiny flags are set into wooden discs to make the place cards or merely for decorative purposes if there are to be no cards. Favors for both men and women are made with Uncle Sam cutouts and red, white and blue shields tied with ribbon. The basket holding the flowers in the picture is trimmed with cut out eagles fastened to the sides, and patriotic paper napkins may also be used. Other appropriate favors are suggested above.

Picked "Leathernecks" Guard Coolidge at Swampscott

Forty-two picked marines, each of whom is more than five feet, 10 inches tall, are guarding the summer White House at Swampscott, Mass. They are in command of Lieut. Edgar Allan Poe (inset), descendant of the famous poet of the same name.

Will Veteran and Rookie Settle A. L. Flag Race?

The Athletics and Senators seem destined to fight it out for the American league pennant. The Mackmen have plugged along today without the services of Lefty Grove. Stan Harris, thanks to the pitching of Gregg, Coveleskie and Reuther, has not had to overwork his veteran star, Walter Johnson. Grove is about ready to go. Johnson is ready for double duty any time. Will these two pitchers, then, decide the race in the closing months if it remains tight?

JAMES SCOTT DIES FROM PARALYSIS

James Scott, 54, passed away at his home, south of Xenia, Wednesday morning at 10:15 o'clock. Death was the result of a stroke of paralysis, he suffered Sunday.

Mr. Scott is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. A. E. Beam, who resides with her parents. He was a member of the Zoar M. E. Church and a retired farmer.

Funeral services will be held at the home of A. E. Beam, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, standard time, and the body will be taken to Waynesburg, Pa., for services and burial there Saturday.

YELLOW SPRINGS

The Antioch College commencement exercises were held Saturday morning on the college campus. President A. E. Morgan delivered the address and conferred the degrees to the thirty graduates. Music was furnished by the Holstein String Quartet. Luncheon was served on the campus. In the afternoon a baseball game was played between the varsity college team and the alumni ending in a victory for the varsity—score was Alumni 2, Varsity 8.

What is a Balloon Tire?

THE announcements of two years or so ago defined a balloon tire as—

"A tire of large cross-sectional diameter having a thin, flexible side wall so it can be run at low enough air pressure to provide a soft air cushion between the car and the road."

That was the industry's ideal.

That was what the car owner was told he would get.

That is what the car owner does get in the U. S. Royal True Low-Pressure Balloon.

But he doesn't get it in all tires that carry the word "Balloon" on the side wall.

Some tires labeled Balloon wear out too fast when run soft, so they must be run at top high pressure to give ideal cushioning and comfort.

The makers of U. S. Royal Balloons have stuck to the original idea and ideal.

The U. S. Royal Balloon is built of Latex-treated Web Cord.

This provides the necessary strength and flexibility for low air pressure.

It also has the U. S. Low-Pressure Tread which distributes the weight evenly over the entire tread surface and eliminates early, uneven and unsightly tread wear.

It can therefore be run at low enough pressure for ideal cushioning without injury.

Many nice big round tires with the name "balloon" on the side wall can't.

APPROACHES ROSS ROADS WHEN HE MEETS WEINERT

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, July 2.—Harry Willis, local challenger for the heavy-weight title, comes to the inevitable crossroads of his career tonight. There is a turn to the right and another to the left and, unfortunately, a choice of direction does not altogether remain a matter of personal selection.

Age, condition and ability will sit in judgment on the situation and whatever they decide Willis must conform. It will be either one thing or the other—championship or curtains for Harry.

He is to meet Charley Weinert, resurrected contender, in what has been scheduled as a fifteen-round bout on official decision. But if Willis is to continue in the front rank of the heavyweights, it must not go to a decision. Willis must knock his man out or he will be out himself.

WALKER-GREB "GO"
The bout will take place at the Polo Grounds and a goodly crowd will be there. It is one of two big-time attractions, arranged for the benefit of the Italian Hospital Fund. The other will involve Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, and Harry Greb, middleweight champion in a fifteen-round, seance, with the latter's title at stake.

This match runs second on the card to the Willis-Weinert affair, but merely as a matter of courtesy. The winners will be far more interested in Walker's attempt to go beyond the class and lift the middleweight title.

In spite of the fact that he has all to lose and little to gain, Greb has been installed a general favorite to win on points. He is thought to be too strong and tough for Walker. However, the latter recently jumped two classes and beat Mike McTigue, then light-heavyweight champion, but it was in a no-decision bout and, therefore, meant less than nothing.

BAD MATCH FOR WILLIS

Willis is general conceded to have made a bad match in taking on Weinert. It is not because the latter is so good, although the megaphone men have been right busy in proclaiming Charles to be a real comeback. It is that Willis has placed himself in the position of being forced to knock out a really clever man in order to retain what prestige he now owns.

This is not being done seven days a week.

Yet if Harry fails to oblige, the king public is prepared to turn thumbs down on his pretensions. It is seen him maul through the full instance with Bartley Madden and his Firpo and thinks the less of him or it.

It feels that it cannot longer countenance a challenger who fails to do what the champion probably would waste little time on.

Owen Carroll, Detroit Tiger hurler and former Holy Cross pitcher, lost his second game of the season last Sunday when the St. Louis Browns hammered him from the hill after he had pitched eight innings. He left the game with the score 6 to 2 against him and so was charged with the defeat. In the eight rounds he worked the Browns got to him for eleven bingles while he fanned two, walked four and made one wild pitch. Ty Cobb, playing manager, says he likes Carroll's style and thinks the former Holy Cross star will make good.

When Carroll made his big league debut several weeks ago with the Tigers at Boston it was widely advertised that he would pitch. As Holy Cross is near Boston, Fenway Park was packed and more than 20,000 fans turned out to see Carroll in action. Ordinarily, with Carroll out of the lineup, the crowd would hardly have been more than 6,000.

While writing of Carroll it brings to mind that the Tigers have been playing good ball of late and since the middle of May, when they were at the bottom of the heap, they have jumped into the first division in six weeks. They have won 23 of their last 33 games. Cobb says any team in the standing with a percentage of .500 or better is bound to be a contender.

When the Pirates beat the Reds last Monday while the Glants were rained out, the win scored over the Hendricks tribe put the Smoky City crew into first place for the first time since September 11, 1921. They were only in first place for two days however as the New York tribe took a doubleheader from the Phillies Wednesday while Pittsburgh beat Chicago. The pair of victories scored by the champs put them three points ahead of the Pirates.

The St. Louis Cardinals have been going like a house afire since Rogers Hornsby was made manager and have now met seven of the other contenders and have beaten four teams in the series. The Reds, Dodgers, Phillies and Cubs all came out on the short end of the count when they engaged Hornsby's nine in four game series. The Cardinals are now facing the acid test in meeting Chicago. In the event they win the series with the Cubs and can trounce the Pirates, they will be stamped as a contender. In the past the Cardinals have always been easy for both the Cubs and Pirates. Last season they won fourteen of the forty-four games played with the two teams.

"Long" George Kelly, regular GL ant firstacker, has been a big help to the champs and if it wasn't for George it is very doubtful if the leaders would be resting on top or even in the first division. When Frisch was forced out of the game, Kelly moved over from first and filled Frisch's shoes so well that the Fordham flash was hardly missed. Kelly, besides playing jam up ball at second, is hitting at a .310 clip and his slugging has broken up quite a few contests.

Walter Grautreau, another college star signed by the Philadelphia Athletics, has made a favorable impression in the two games he has played so far. In the first contest against the Browns he took Dyke's place at second and played the last three innings. He handled four chances cleanly but whiffed twice. "Bullet" Joe Bush was in the box for the Browns and Gautreau could not connect with Joe's fast one at all. Last Saturday he played a full game and was lead off man for the Mackmen. He again failed to get a hit but played well at second although he made one mis-cue.

In the Saturday Afternoon League the R. A. Kelly nine still continues to lead with six games won and two lost. The H. and A. is second with five won and three lost while the Panhandle tribe is third with Tilton's still at the bottom. The Tilton bunch has two postponed games to be played off, one with the leaders and the other with the runners up. Both games are important. If H. and A. should happen to win and Kellies lose they will be in a tie for first place while at the same time Tilton's would be in a tie for second place with the railroaders. Following is the standing to date.

Never Before a Value Like This

The Super-Six principle, exclusive to Hudson and Essex, is responsible for the largest selling 6-cylinder cars in the world, because it gives results in smooth, brilliant action, reliability and economy never attained by any other type.

This Essex, in all ways, is the finest ever built. Easier riding and driving, more flexible in performance, handsomer in line and finish, it is also lower in price than ever before. Its success is simply the belief of buyers that it represents the utmost automobile value and satisfaction within hundreds of dollars of the price; and it proceeds entirely from what owners themselves say of Essex.
